MEASURES FAILED

Which President Believed Should be Passed.

OVATION GIVEN SPEAKER

When He Bid Farewell to Members at the Close.

Washington, March 4.-President Roosewelt today sent a letter of which the following is a copy: White House, Washington,

*To Hon, David B. Henderson, late speaker of the house of representatives:

"My Dear Mr. Speaker: As I did not gee you today at the capitol, I wish to write you a line to congratulate you on the work accomplished by the congress which has just closed. There were cer-tain measures of importance, the failure to act upon which I greatly regretted, but to act upon which i greatly regretted, but it is nevertheless true that, taken as a whole, as other congress of recent years has to its credit a record of more substantial achievement for the public good than this, over the lower branch of which you presided. I congratulate you and it and I wish you well wherever your future may lead you.

Washington, March 4.—The decks were clear for the final adjournment at noon when the house reconvened at 10 o'clock this morning. The storm which culmimated at 4 o'clock this morning when Mr. Cannon delivered his scathing arraign-ment of the methods of the senate during consideration of the conference report on the general deficiency appropria-tion bill had passed and everything promised a serene and peaceful ending. Al-though members had had little more than time to go home for baths, fresh linen and breakfust in the interim since the adjournment shortly before daylight, they back in their seats for the closing were among the earliest arrivals. As is usual the scenes in connection with the closing attracted vast crowds. They be-seiged the portals of the house even beclosing attracted vast crowds. Washington, March 4.—The action of congress in striking out in conference an item appropriating $50,000 to defray the expenses of the high joint commission while regretted at the state department will not be allowed to prevent the re-assembling of the commission next sum-mer. The president, it is held, is not obliged to look to congress for authority to appoint commissioners to conduct ne-gotiations for which he himself must gotiations for which he himself must assume ultimate responsibility. The action of congress therefore, doe snot affect the official status of the United States commission headed by Senator Fairbanks. It does make necessary the adoption of a more economic program for the future work of the commission than was originally framed but it is found possible to reassemble the commission and to pay the expenses out of the contingent fund of the state department. Sen ator Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the latter the head of the Canadian commission, are accordingly in correspondence with a view to arrange a date for the reassembling of the commission.
